Dear Friends,

It is a delight to share the following news with you, because many of you either knew my Beloved Walt or are acquainted with him through our children or others.

Early in our marriage, we invited young men to live in our home for training in the Christian life. One of these fellows, John Advocaat went on to have an amazing ministry in Russia and Mongolia. Recently he told me that Walt's book, Disciples Are Made Not Born, which had been translated in Russian was up for a second printing of 10,000 copies. Additionally, a Mongolian translation of the book is almost completed to be published in Mongolia.

John tells me: "The books will be distributed all over Russia. In the big cities of the west like Moscow and St. Petersburg, in the south in Stavropol and Krasnodar regions, even in Grozny and Dagestan; then in the Urals and all over Siberia; in the north in Yakutia and all the way east to the Sakhalin Island! Church leaders are excited about this and expect impact."

Can you imagine the joy that filled my heart when I heard this news? Walt wrote the book in 1974, and 47 years later the Lord is still using it! John asked me to write an additional forward for the printing to personalize it for the present time. What a privilege to testify that I saw discipleship in action, as Walt lived out the Scriptures in all aspects of his life.

It also challenges me to keep investing my life in the people the Lord brings to me in my current situation and by telephone. I haven't figured out Zoom technology – I'll leave that to Janna 😊.

Walt summed up discipleship in his devotional, "Every follower of Christ must view himself as a link between generations. Reception is the privilege, transmission the responsibility."

Your prayers, sharing and investing are incredible gifts to Janna and me. Thank you so much for co-laboring with us.
