

Dear Ministry Partners,

May, 2026

In April our cup overflowed with 30-plus precious guests (not counting our monthly church potluck) like Kevin & Lusi Chien, Shirley Wang, Bernice Chee, Florence and Mike Yee and kids from the Bay Area, Olivia Lee from Arizona, and Kinsen Siu from Australia who dropped in for an LAX-layover lunch! Lee is teaching a new believer weekly and mentoring several other men. One invited us to see "A Great Awakening" about George Whitfield which we highly recommend. Another from our previous church invited us to watch "The Story of Everything" which is better for more science-oriented people. Both stir good theological discussions. Ken, Lee's best friend from our church, pops in regularly to quench his thirst for the Word and has introduced me to his mother and Lee to his best client to team up for the Gospel. Recently we have also been reconnected to two of my Stanford classmates.

Jansen is getting good attendance at his meetings and is planning for summer activities for the Chinese scholars he continues to meet with in the Bay Area.

My new friend, Kathy Narramore, is introducing me to several of her groups of friends who are involved with Biola and USC. It's amazing that, at our age, the pegs of our tent seem to be extending out, leading to amazing opportunities to continue to invest in the two eternal things: souls and the Word of God. Thank you, dear friends, for your prayer and financial support.

Yours for the Gospel,

Miltinnie, Lee and Jansen
